

GENERAL TERMS OF DELIVERY

§ 1

ORDERS AND RULES OF THEIR FULFILMENT

- Petalana S.A. with their seat in Katowice (Petalana) sells its products to business partners (Distributors) based on acknowledged orders, according to the rules resulting from the "General Terms of Delivery" (GTD), accessible on the Internet site of Petralana at the address www.petalana.eu and as an annex to partner agreements as well as on the basis of other documents specifying the terms of cooperation. The catalogue of Petralana's products (standard products) is presented in hardcopy form and on the Internet sites of Petralana S.A. at the address www.petalana.eu.
- Fulfillment of orders for non-standard products requires each time an individual agreement with Petralana.
- Placing of an order is equal to acceptance of the GTD.
- In case when Petralana and Distributor remain in constant business relations, acceptance of the GTD when placing the first order has an effect in the form of their validity in all further orders, until these GTD are terminated or changed.
- Following the placement by the Distributor of an electronic or a written order, and the acknowledgement of the date of order fulfilment by Petralana, an obligation to realise the delivery and pay remuneration arises.
- Orders are placed in writing (e-mail), and they should contain the following data:
 - product name and its dimensions,
 - unit price of the ordered product,
 - unit of measure,
 - quantity of the ordered product,
 - term and reception schedule declared by the Distributor,
 - way and payment term declared by the Distributor,
 - place of delivery including postal code,
 - description of the way of unloading (top/side),
 - Distributor's name and address,
 - details of the person placing the order (first name and surname and telephone number and e-mail address),
 - details of the person authorised by the Distributor to receive the goods (first name and surname and telephone number),
 - terms of delivery – in case of export Distributors.The lack of any of the details in an order may result in denial to fulfil it by Petralana.
- It is recommended that the order form is used for placing orders, which specimen can be found at the site www.petalana.eu.
- The unit responsible for order fulfilment and delivery organisation is the Customer Service Department (CSD).
- CSD gives information in the scope of accepting and fulfilling of orders as well as delivery organisation on workdays from Monday to Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- CSD acknowledges receiving the order within 2 workdays as of receiving an order, whereas an order placed on workdays after 4 p.m., on Saturdays, Sundays, and bank holidays will be treated as received on the subsequent.
- If a more detailed description of the ordered items is required, the Distributor undertakes to supplement the order within 90 days as of the date of its receipt. Incomplete orders shall not be fulfilled by Petralana.
- An order based on prepayment is approved for fulfilment if and only if it has been paid for. Failure to pay for an order within the specified deadline may result in postponing the date of order completion. In the payment for an order is in arrears for more than 60 days, Petralana has the right to cancel the order, of which it shall inform the Distributor by e-mail. Petralana is not liable for errors in orders. Production and transportation costs resulting from fulfilling an order containing an error shall be borne by the Distributor.

- Petalana is not liable for errors in orders. The costs of manufacturing and transportation resulting from fulfilment of an order encumbered with an error are borne by the Distributor.
- Any changes to the orders, their corrections, or cancellation must be notified in writing.
- In case of standard products changes have to be notified not later than within 2 workdays before the indicated delivery date. Changes will not be taken into consideration if the product has already been dispatched.
- In case of non-standard products changes have to be notified not later than within 2 workdays before the actual date of starting the goods' production according to the order. Changes will not be taken into consideration if the product has already been manufactured or its manufacturing has begun.
- Making a change in an order may cause a delay of the previously confirmed date of the order's fulfilment.
- In the event of cancellation of receipt of ordered and manufactured goods, Petralana has the right to charge the Purchaser for the costs of production and storage of this product, without prejudice to the right set forth in § 2 section 9 of the GTC.
- In case the Distributor is in arrears with payments in favour of Petralana or exceeds the granted trade credit limit, Petralana reserves the right to suspend accepting new orders or suspend or cancel the fulfilment of acknowledged orders or
- A change to the acknowledged and foreseen order fulfilment dates by Petralana is possible in case of occurrence of "force majeure". The notion of "force majeure" is understood as every event, which could not have been foreseen while acting with due care. Force majeure in the GTD is understood as among other: fire, flood, general strike blockades of roads or other publicly used entry and exit places, earthquake, flooding, hurricane, epidemics, and other events connected with the elementary forces of nature as well as breakdowns, energy, water, and raw material supply failures, which make Petralana's work impossible.
- In case it is not possible to fulfil an acknowledged order as consequence of occurrence of "force majeure", Petralana will promptly notify the Distributor about it, indicating if possible a new foreseen fulfilment term. If the new term is not accepted by the Distributor, Petralana is entitled to withdraw from the order's fulfilment, without bearing liability for failure to fulfil the order and with no extra costs. The Distributor is entitled to resign from delivery of ordered product products without incurring any extra costs in a situation when the new foreseen delivery date exceeds the previously acknowledged delivery date by 14 working days.

§ 2

DELIVERY OF PRODUCTS

- Petalana will deliver the products to an indicated place of delivery at their own cost, without the costs of unloading and possible lengthened stoppage of the means of transportation at the place of delivery.
- Following prior individual settlement of terms it is possible to collect the ordered products from Petralana's warehouse using a means of transportation brought by the Distributor. In such cases, however:
 - Petalana is not liable for the losses arising during transportation,
 - Petalana is not liable for damage to the products carried in vehicles unsuited for their transportation,
 - the means of transportation brought by the Distributor should guarantee transportation of the whole order,
 - the collecting party has to have an approval issued by the Distributor,
 - the collecting party is obligated to sign an external release document and to state the date and hour of collection.
- Unloading of delivered products has to be finalised within 3 hours as of arrival to the place indicated in the order. The costs and risk related to prolonged unloading or stoppage are borne by the Distributor.
- The minimum delivery quantity is specified based upon the individual agreements between Petralana and the Distributor, whereas it is dependent on the possibility of organising joint deliveries to a number of unloading points. In case of a lack of such possibility, the product's price may be higher than the standard one taking into account higher transportation costs.
- Full vehicle deliveries may be unloaded in more than one place at a supplementary transportation and unloading fee, agreed in advance.
- In case it is physically impossible to arrive by a given means of transportation at an unloading point indicated in the order, then deliveries to this point will not be realised. In case it is not possible to unload in the specified delivery place, the ordered products may be carried to another delivery place indicated by the, at their own expense. The driver has the right to deny arrival at an unloading point in case there is a possibility of damaging the vehicle or causing damage.
- Petalana is entitled to charge the Distributor with transportation costs, if an incorrect delivery address is specified in the order, which will result in the need to transport the products to another place.
- If an order is cancelled despite the lack of authorisation to do so, or if the ordered goods are not collected within 60 days from the date of order placement, Petralana has the right, at Petralana's own discretion,
 - to deliver the goods to the Distributor at the Distributor's expense (in the case of FCA/EXW conditions) and risk, or
 - rescind the sales agreement, without giving the Distributor any additional period of time and sell the goods, or dispose of the goods at the Distributor's expense, in the event of disposal of the goods, Petralana shall charge the Distributor with compensation equal to the price of the goods.If, in the case referred to in a. the Distributor does not collect the goods, Petralana shall be entitled to charge the Distributor for all costs thereof. The right referred to in b. shall not prejudice any further claims for damages and may also be exercised in particular in the event of unsuccessful delivery in accordance with a.
- A delivery is deemed to be made at the moment products are delivered for unloading in the delivery place and the freight papers are handed over to the Distributor or a person authorised by the Distributor.
- In case products are collected in Petralana's warehouse a delivery is deemed to be made at the moment the products are loaded onto a brought means of transportation.
- A person collecting the ordered products on behalf of the Distributor has to have an authorisation issued by the Distributor. The Distributor or a person authorised by them to collect, is obligated to sign an external release document and to confirm the conformity of the delivery with the delivery note.
- The Distributor is burdened with damage to the goods during unloading.
- An invoice for collected goods is sent by post or in case of giving consent to receiving invoices in electronic form – by electronic post, on the next workday or after the realized dispatch or collection of the products from Petralana's warehouse.
- In case of using the Distributor's own means of transportation, Petralana is not liable for losses incurred by the Distributor as a result of using transportation not suitable for transporting the Product. The provided means of transportation shall be clean and have openable side walls to enable proper loading of Product. In justified cases, Petralana may refuse to load a vehicle that fails to meet the abovementioned conditions.

GENERAL TERMS OF DELIVERY

§ 3 CLAIMS

3.1. GENERAL RULES

1. Petralana declares that all products allowed for sales and marked with the CE sign are manufactured according to the standards in force. Products allowed for sales have the necessary documents allowing for their sales according to the intended use anticipated by the manufacturer and Declarations of the usable properties for each individual product.
2. Documents, which allow for introducing Petralana's products for turnover or making available on the building material market, are accessible on the Internet site of Petralana at the address www.petalana.eu.
3. All claims are considered according to the valid law in the territory of the Republic of Poland.
4. A claim has to be lodged in writing within the terms specified in the GTD.
5. Notification of a claim should contain: the Distributor's name, first name, surname, and telephone number of the person lodging, external release document or invoice number, copy of original label of the claimed product, a detailed description, and the quantity of the claimed product.
6. Complaints lodged contrary to the GTD shall not be processed, and Petralana shall in such cases notify the Distributor about the necessity to lodge a complaint in accordance with GTD. The deadline for processing the complaint is counted as of the date of lodging a complete complaint in accordance with GTD.
7. A specimen of the claim notification form can be found on the site www.petalana.eu.
8. Lodging a complaint does not entitle the Distributor to suspend the payment for the goods.
9. Complaints are administered within 14 working days (21 working days in case the claim concerns sales abroad) as of the date of notification arrival at Petralana, whereas Petralana will use their best efforts, so that the term of administering the claim is as short as possible.
10. In case when a claim is lodged against the terms indicated above, Petralana will notify the Distributor about it, committing them to complete the notification within 3 working days of receiving notification on missing data – otherwise the claim will be deemed not lodged. The deadline for administering the claim is counted as of the date of completing the claim notification.
11. In cases, when settlement of the claim requires application of additional procedures, which may prolong the deadline of its settlement or in case of occurrence of other circumstances, which may prolong the time for its settlement, the Distributor will receive such information within 14 working days (21 working days in case of a claim related to sales abroad) as of the date of lodging the claim including an expected date of its settlement, if it is possible to indicate such a date.
12. The overall liability of Petralana towards the Distributor arising out of any claims of the Distributor in respect of delivery of Goods shall be limited to 100% of the total agreed remuneration. Regardless of the legal basis for the claimed amount, Petralana's liability is in each case limited to actual damages. Petralana is not liable for lost profit or consequential damages.

3.2. CLAIMS RELATED TO INCORRECT DELIVERY

1. Claims in virtue of incorrect delivery include:
 - a. quantity claims,
 - b. claims related to damage to the delivered products,
 - c. nonconformity of the products with the acknowledged order, packaging condition, delivery date.
2. The Distributor is obligated to confirm the delivery and verify its conditions at the moment of receiving the products. Any damage, shortcomings, or delays in delivery should be documented in every copy of an external release document and delivery note.
3. Any reservations related to the delivered product products have to be captured in the form of annotations in the external release document or by means of a report and they must be confirmed by the signatures of the receiving party and the forwarder's driver or railway employee.
4. Claims in virtue of incorrect delivery should be lodged promptly, i.e. on the next workday after unloading at the latest.
5. Is not liable for damage to the products taking place during unloading and improper storage of products (i.e. inconsistent with the product safe use instruction, which is found on every pallet, on which the products are placed) and other events for which the Distributor or persons acting on their behalf are liable, as well as also in the case of collecting the products using one's own means of transportation. Petralana is not liable for losses incurred during transportation or short-shipments.
6. In case a claim is lodged inconsistently with the terms or deadlines indicated in the GTD, it is considered the products were accepted without any reservations and the claim will not be taken into consideration.

3.3. QUALITY CLAIMS

1. Quality claims are related to any doubts concerning the technical parameters of the delivered products
2. Claims must be lodged in writing by the Distributor, that purchased the goods at Petralana S.A.
3. In case of a complaint, the goods complained against have to be secured together with purchase documents and stored in such a way as to prevent their damage until the arrival of a representative of Petralana.
4. Following the arrival of a claim at Petralana it will be promptly transferred (on the next workday at the latest) to the Technical Advisor and the appropriate Regional Sales Manager, who will contact the Distributor in order to fix a meeting and visit aiming at evaluating the claimed product.
5. Petralana together with the Distributor that claims the product will draw up a report note from the agreed meeting, which will include visual evaluation of the claimed product and the degree of correctness of the product's storage, its warehousing and transportation and possibly also mounting and application.
6. A representative of Petralana may collect a sample of the claimed product, including a sample of the claimed product from already executed building facilities, in order to carry out laboratory tests.
7. If a dispute arises with regard to the quality of the product, the parties shall carry out a joint evaluation of the claimed products, and the Technical Advisor shall notify the Distributor (by telephone, fax, or e-mail) about the scheduled visit of the claim commission at the location of the claim.
8. The claim commission, including representatives of Petralana and individuals indicated by the Distributor, is entitled to uncover the product installed in the facility and take samples which may be intended for tests to be carried out by an accredited laboratory.
9. Samples collected without enabling the participation of a representative of Petralana shall not constitute the basis for complaint claims.
10. In case that the purchased product raises doubts as to its quality and despite these doubts it is used, PETRALANA S.A. is not liable for the arisen defects or related costs.
11. Petralana should be promptly notified about any quality claim and not later than within 3 working days from the day of discovering the irregularity and not later than within 3 months as of the day of delivering/collection of the products.
12. In case of concealed defects, quality claims should be lodged promptly after discovering of the defect, however not later than within 7 days from the day of discovering it.
13. Petralana is not liable for Distributor's errors and errors of third parties, including losses resulting from the improper use of the product, its inappropriate storage contrary to Petralana's instructions and design and executive faults as well as acts of force majeure.

tions and design and executive faults as well as acts of force majeure.

14. If a complaint is accepted and the goods are returned, the Distributor shall return the goods immediately, but no later than within 14 days as of complaint acceptance, unless the parties have agreed otherwise. If the returned goods are other than the goods complained against, Petralana shall charge the Distributor with the cost of their utilisation.
15. The goods to be returned shall bear no sign of damage and, as far as possible, shall be packaged in Petralana's manufacturer's packaging.

§ 4 FINAL PROVISIONS

1. The GTD constitute an integral part of the concluded agreement.
2. The GTC may be amended. In the event of changes, the Distributor shall be informed in writing 14 days prior to their introduction. If, within 7 days of being informed of the change, the Distributor does not accept the new GTC notified in writing, the agreement shall be terminated on the date the new GTC enter into force. These GTC shall apply to orders placed before the entry into force of these GTC.
3. The GTD are valid from 01.03.2025 and replace entire GTD valid before.
4. Any possible disputes, which directly or indirectly arise from the contractual relationship, which these GTD are a basis or part of, will be resolved according to Polish law.
5. A court competent taking into account each seat of Petralana will be a competent court for the resolution of disputes arising directly or indirectly from the contractual relationship, which these GTD form the basis or part of.